

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Describe the reasons or results of events or actions in spoken or written texts, in work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Have you ever accidentally given someone the wrong item? What happened?
- When did you realize that a mix-up happened?

Can Do Statements

- I can discuss reasons and results of an event or an action related to work and jobs.
- I can express willingness or intention to do something in work and job issues.
- I can exchange complex professional information related to work and job issues.

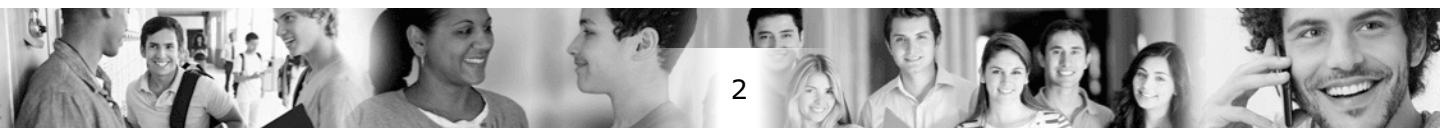

Let's Explore!

It's time to mingle with the crowd!

* "To mingle" means to move around and talk to other people at a social event.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Denise: Well gang, having finished our speeches and introductions and considering that it's getting a little late in the evening, I suggest you now work the room. Do one more sweep first, then I would like you to mingle and give out your business cards. Don't go overboard and drink too much and don't overstep your bounds with anyone, but have some fun. Having said that, I'm going to have a drink.
- Adam: Oh no! I only have a couple of business cards left.
- Boris: You are always doing that. Here, take some of mine. Let's mingle.
- Kristi: Denise. Where is Marisa?
- Denise: I think she is off having a heart attack somewhere. Poor thing. No, Marisa's leaving for the station in about a minute.
- Kristi: Is she going somewhere else?
- Denise: I think she is going home. She is going on some kind of excursion tomorrow. Seeing that she's had a very big day, I would imagine she is tired.
- Kristi: Considering that this book is going to become a monster, she'd better get used to it.
- Denise: Being a little tired, I think I may head home myself.
- Ben: So, this guy is sitting all by himself in a bar moping, so the barman refuses to serve him another drink.
- Adam: Denise needs to see you right away. It's important.
- Ben: Oh, excuse me!
- Adam: He usually prefers tea to liquor.
- Martina: Are you going to finish telling the rest of that horrible joke?
- Adam: I don't know any horrible jokes.
- Martina: You're funny.
- Adam: Thanks, my mom concurs as well.
- Martina: Sadly, I have to be going. I am tasked with going to a very boring family event now and I'm running late, but here's my card.
- Adam: Oh excellent. Here's mine.
- Martina: Thanks, see you around funny man.
- Adam: See you around.
- Boris: Who was that? She was stunning.
- Adam: That was ... Martina.
- Boris: Are you going to call her?
- Adam: Oh yeah. Oh wait! Oh no. I think I gave her one of your business cards by mistake. I'm so stupid!
- Boris: Nice work ... funny man.

Let's Practice!

Is it a reason or a result?

Instructions: Read the clues. Match the sentences on Column A to the sentences on Column B.

COLUMN A

1. I think I may head home myself.
2. I suggest now you work the room.
3. I would imagine she is tired.
4. I'm going to have a drink.
5. She'd better get used to it.

COLUMN B

- a. Having said that,
- b. Seeing that she had a very big day,
- c. Considering that this book is going to become a monster,
- d. Being a little tired,
- e. Having finished our speeches and introductions and considering that it's getting a little late in the evening,

Let's Practice!

What were they all doing?

Instructions: Read and write the correct words from the box to complete sentences.

Word Bank

station / moping / doing / going home / to finish telling / excursion tomorrow / off having

1. You are always _____ that.
2. I think she is _____ a heart attack somewhere.
3. Marisa's leaving for the _____ in about a minute.
4. She is _____.
5. She is going on some kind of _____.
6. This guy is sitting all by himself in a bar _____, so the barman refuses to serve him another drink.
7. Are you going _____ the rest of that horrible joke?

Extension Activity

Talking about a busy scene.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Go online and search for a scene/picture of people doing things.
- Choose a picture that contains a lot of activities.
- Save this picture to your phone/ computer or print it out.
- Write 5 sentences about the imagined life of one character from your picture.
- Show your picture to your classmate.
- Use your imagination and discuss:
 - what the people in the picture were doing before the picture was taken,
 - what they are doing now, and
 - what you think they are going to be doing in 5 minutes
- Read your sentences to your partner. Does your partner think the sentences seem to fit this person's life story?

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I look for a picture online, showing people doing things or a lot of activities.

☐ ☐

I write sentences about what I imagine one character's life is like.

☐ ☐

I show this picture to my classmate.

☐ ☐

I discuss different actions happening in the picture now and before and after the picture was taken.

☐ ☐

I read and think about whether this imagined life is appropriate.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- gang (noun): a group of friends, co-workers
e.g. Well gang, having finished our speeches and introductions and considering that it's getting a little late in the evening, I suggest you now work the room.
- sweep (noun): a movement, especially a quick one to check for things e.g. Do one more sweep.
- to go overboard (expression): to react in an immoderate way
e.g. Don't go overboard and drink too much.
- to overstep my bounds (expression): to do more than you are allowed to do or should do e.g. Don't overstep your bounds with anyone.
- excursion (noun): a short journey or trip
e.g. She is going on some kind of excursion tomorrow.
- to concur (verb): to agree
e.g. Thanks, my mom concurs as well.

Learning Points

Reason and Result Clauses Using Participles

As an alternative to using linking words with conjunctions, you can use participles to introduce a reason or a result of something. A participle is a verb + ing.

For example:

To express result instead of words like because and as a result.

Having finished the assignment, I asked my boss to read it over.

Considering that this book is going to become a monster, she'd better get used to it.

To express reason instead of words like so and therefore.

Being a little tired, I think I may head home myself.

Seeing that she had a very big day, I would imagine she is tired.

Examples:

- Being a little tired, I think I may head home myself.
- Having finished our speeches and introductions and considering that it's getting a little late in the evening, I suggest you now work the room.
- Seeing that she had a very big day, I would imagine she is tired.
- Having said that, I'm going to have a drink.

Learning Points

The Present Continuous and Be Going To

You use the Present Continuous tense to talk about a variety of situations. You use be going to to talk about the future.

Refer to the chart for the uses of the Present Continuous and how it compares to be going to:

Tense	Use/Meaning	Example
Present Continuous	to tell a story - it makes the action seem more direct (as if it is happening right now)	I'm standing in line at the grocery store and I realize that I forgot my wallet!
	to talk about what people have arranged to do	Tom is going to the airport this afternoon.
	to talk about what is happening at the time of speaking	I'm just calling him now to see if he is free.
Be going to	to talk about intentions for the future	We are going to have a meeting about this next week.

Examples:

- Marisa's leaving for the station in about a minute.
- You are always doing that!
- So, this guy is sitting all by himself in a bar moping, so the barman refuses to serve him another drink.
- She is off having a heart attack somewhere.
- I am going to have a drink.

